BUGGY SHAFT PIERCES LUNGS

Clarence Myers, New Oxford, Victim of Serious Accident when he Collides with Vehicle. Now in Hospital.

Riding headlong into an approaching buggy, Clarence Myers, of New Oxford, sustained serious injuries Tuesday evening about seven o'clock when a buggy shaft penetrated his left side and punctured the lung. He is now in the York hospital where an operation was performed late Tuesday night.

The young man is seventeen years of age and is a son of Elmer Myers who resides between New Oxford and Abbotstown. In the day time he works in one of the shoe factories in New Oxford and at night works in the exchange of the Cumberland Valley Telephone Company in the same town. Between time of quitting at the shoe factory and starting at the exchange he frequently takes bicycle rides and he had just started out Tuesday evening when the accident happened.

He was nearing the railroad crossing near the station and was not carrying any light when the approaching team suddenly confronted him. He either became confused or was riding too rapidly to stop for he went straight into the shaft. Earl Cashman, the driver of the team, at once went to the injured boy's side and, with the assistance of several people, carried him to the office of Dr. George Seaks, where preliminary treatment was given. Later he was taken in Elmer Livingston's automobile to the York hospital. Word from there this morning stated that he had spent a fairly comfortable night.

Mr. Cashman, who was driving the team, lives between New Oxford and Gettysburg and did not see young Myers approaching, it is said.

UNIQUE RECORD

Record of Gettysburg Anniversary to be Preserved for All Time.

A unique historical record of the great reunion of veterans of the battle of Gettysburg held on the fiftieth anniversary in July is being prepared by Colonel Lewis E. Beitel, secretary of the commission and the man who had charge of the organization and details of the notable gathering. This record is to be preserved in the State Museum, and in many instances will be unusual. The record will contain a history of the movement for the celebration and statements of the encouragement which was lent to it in Northern and Southern States. Probably the most interesting feature will be the pictures of the men who had to do with the celebration. They will include the likenesses of William H. Taft and Woodrow Wilson and their Secretaries of War, the senatorial and congressional committees in charge, the officers of the army who had to do with the preparations and handling of the camp and reunion; Edwin S. Stuart, the Governor who called attention to the importance of arranging for the celebration in a message to the Legislature, and John K. Tener, under whose administration it was carried out; of the State commissioners and the officers who served under it. Speeches, descriptions and many interesting matters will be preserved in this record for all time.

TO KILL SCALE

Millions of Dollars Have Been Lost for the Fruit Growers.

Professor H. A. Surface, State Economic Zoologist, announces that he has discovered a parasite that will destroy the San Jose scale, an announcement that means more to the fruit growers and tree men of Pennsylvania than any that has been made in many years, as the San Jose scale is a pest that has done millions of dollars of damage to fruit trees in this State.

Professor Surface says he has discovered and is propagating and disseminating this parasite of the San Jose scale which is effectively and entirely cleaning up the pest throughout entire counties in Pennsylvania. For some time he and his orchard inspectors have been working on this subject, and it was not until he was certain of every important detail that the announcement was made.

HAZING WEEKS COME TO AN END

Freshmen, Victims of Sophomore Pranks for Last Two Weeks, are now Free. Must Wear Green Tags for a While.

Since Gettysburg College opened two weeks ago the Freshmen have been kept more than busy playing the leading role in the comedy-drama known as "Hazing".

Few nights have passed that some unfortunate new men have not had to crawl out from their peaceful slumbers and sing "Showers of Blessing" under a cold shower bath to the tune of the "old hickory paddle".

Hazing, which is permitted by the Student Council and the upper-classmen, for a period of two weeks after the opening of school has been a source of fear and worry for every Freshie and they no doubt are thankful that now their long two weeks of amusing the Sophs have come to a close, Tuesday night closing the unhappy period.

A big bon fire in front of one of the dormitories, twenty men or more, with good, stout paddles and a Freshman or two to amuse the crowd until more can be routed out from their places of hiding, usually starts the evening's performance. Barking at the moon, extemporaneous speeches to amuse the spectators, imitations of love scenes, etc., are only a few of the lighter punishments which are meted out to the Freshmen for their alleged verandcy.

Only recently one of the larger attractions was staged when practically the whole class was divided and placed on the two ends of a heavy rope, which had been stretched across the Tiber, where it contained perhaps a foot or more of water, with the implicit order from the "mighty Sophs" that pulling should continue until one of the sides should pull the other into the stream. It took quite a pull to effect the desired result but it came in due time accompanied with a splash.

Another time amusement was furnished when one of the janitor's wheelbarrows was secured and a Freshman was made to haul one of his classmates into class to the cheers and jeers of the crowd.

The climax of the whole performance was reached on Monday night when three unfortunate Freshmen were "captured", imprisoned in the Gymnasium and after a mock trial were sentenced to be "tarred and feathered". Molasses was the tar and an assortment of chicken feathers and other varieties, even to several large ones that some time or other had been taken as a souvenir from some fair young damsel, were there in abundance. Three fine specimens of humanity were the cause of much merriment for an hour or so.

A great kindness was bestowed on the victims afterwards when they were allowed to have warm water and take as much time as necessary to "clean up" after their unpleasant punishment.

This morning the hundred or more new men appeared wearing on their coat lapels large green identification cards, which they are supposed to display for several weeks. The card is headed "I am a Freshman" and then follows the name, address and description of each individual. The new men claim the hardship is imposed without necessary authority and class meetings are being held to frame formal protests against the indignity.

RECEPTION FOR NEW MINISTER

College Church Congregation Welcomes Dr. Wagner, its New Pastor. Addresses by Various Members. Pretty Decorations

In the tastefully decorated Sunday School room of College Church the congregation on Tuesday evening tendered a most delightful reception to the new pastor, Dr. A. E. Wagner, and Mrs. Wagner.

The usual plain appearance of the room was entirely absent Tuesday evening, an abundance of asparagus and hydrangeas being used to convert the place into one of exceptional beauty. The forbidding white pillars were decorated with huge bunches of the asparagus tied with large bows of red and the walls and windows were adorned in similar fashion. Cut flowers were used in other portions of the room. The scheme of decorations was in charge of Miss Kate Gilbert, Mrs. J. A. Holtzworth and Mrs. C. B. Stover who were assisted by other members of the congregation.

An informal reception was held from seven to eight o'clock, those in the receiving line being Dr. and Mrs. Wagner, Dr. and Mrs. M. Coover and Dr. H. C. Alleman. Dr. Coover and Dr. Alleman are former pastors of the church.

The formal program of the evening was opened with Scripture reading and prayer by Dr. T. C. Billheimer and then Prof. C. F. Sanders called on the following to extend greetings to the new pastor, Dr. H. C. Alleman, president of the church council; Dr. J. A. Singmaster, president of the Theological Seminary; Dr. W. A. Granville, president of the college; I. L. Taylor, superintendent of the Sunday School; Miss Carrie Musselman, for the Woman's Missionary Society; Mrs. George M. Rice, for the Young People's Missionary Society; Robert Gurnes, for the Christian Endeavor Society. Little Eleanor Heindel presented the Mission Band greetings in the form of a basket of flowers. Dr. Wagner made a happy response and, during the program, there were musical numbers by Mr. and Mrs. M. K. Eckert and Miss Mary Himes.

The reception closed with the serving of refreshments to the large number present.

FOR APPLE SHOW

Will Make Apple Show a Feature of Fair at Biglerville.

The committee in charge of the fruit department of the winter fair, to be held in Biglerville the last of December, are working on the premium, list, and expect to have some very attractive prizes to announce soon. Apple growers all over the county are saving their best fruit for exhibit.

There will be classes for boxes and barrels, as well as for plates, of nearly all the leading commercial varieties. One class is being arranged for commercial growers, giving a liberal premium for the best three barrels of York Imperials selected at random from the regular commercial pack of the grower wishing to enter. Much interest centers in this class, for it is unique. So far as known, it has never been tried in any other show.

Chester J. Tyson, J. Andrew Kane and Charles A. Wolfe are the committee in charge of the fruit department, and information concerning it can be secured from any of them.

PREPARING FOR TOWNSHIP ROADS

Adams County's Roads will be Governed according to Provisions of Act Passed by the Last Legislature. The Plans.

The State Highway Department has completed its plans for taking over the township highways of Adams Co., with those of the other counties of the State, and the various boards of township supervisors. The formal action takes place early in December, when the new board of supervisors begin their terms of office. A law permitting this was passed by the last legislature and signed by Governor Tener, July 23.

Highway Commissioner E. M. Biglow has established a bureau of township highways. The state will be divided into districts and a district superintendent of township highways will be appointed in each. The township supervisors will be answerable to this official.

The State Highway Department will minutely describe the duties of the supervisors, fix standards of supplies and equipment for the maintenance and repair of the roadways and approve all plans and specifications for the construction and repair of all roadways and bridges.

It is not believed that one-third of the supervisors throughout the state know that the law changes their tenure of office and provides for the election this year of supervisors for four and six year terms. In filing papers in the various counties, the candidates for supervisors failed to indicate which term they sought, with the result that after the November election the supervisors will have to draw lots to decide which of them shall serve for four and which the full term of six years.

Farmers will not be allowed to work out their road taxes, the privilege being abolished by the act, which also abolishes the office of township clerk. The new township supervisors take the places of the old road supervisors. Hereafter, each second-class township shall receive annually from the state 50 per cent of the total amount of road tax collected in the township.

HENRY ROTH.

THAW DECISION NEXT MONDAY

Governor of New Hampshire Will Act Then.

JEROME SCORES FUGITIVE

Declares Wherever Case Has Gone It Left a Trail of Disgrace, Filth and Scandal.

Concord, N. H., Sept. 24.—Governor Samuel D. Felker will not decide whether to send Harry K. Thaw back to Matteawan or to give him his liberty in New Hampshire until next Monday.

That was the upshot of the hearing made known a few minutes after William T. Jerome had stood in the senate chamber of the state house and told the New Hampshire governor why New York state has been willing to spend money and time to get Thaw back.

"From the very hour," he said, "that Stanford White lay dead on the roof garden in the city of New York, his life taken by a murderer or a lunatic, from that time to this minute it has been said repeatedly that in the end the Thaw money would defeat the ends of justice."

Thaw, whose head had fallen for ward on his chest, looked up at the man who has kept him under lock and key since the night Stanford White was killed. His face was deathly pale. A faint smile hovered about his lips. He turned to his mother, Mrs. Mary Copley Thaw, who was seated directly behind him. She stretched out her hand and Thaw clasped it for an instant. Jerome continued:

"So far it has not entirely accomplished this end, but wherever this case has gone and whenever it has rested it has left a trail of disgrace, ignominy, filth and scandal behind that has been absolutely appalling, and the state of New York, sir, will not permit its justice to be defeated by the corrupt use of money if it can prevent it. That is why the state of New York wants a man back whom it regards as a homicidal lunatic when influenced by his insane delusion and his vicious degeneracy at other times; a man criminal in his held intervals and dangerous in his insane ones."

Judge Chase, who opened the case for Thaw, said, "Harry Thaw is before you in extradition proceedings. He is charged with conspiracy, which is a misdemeanor, although the grand jury of Dutchess county has not found an indictment against him. It is the duty of your excellency to honor the papers if they are offered in good faith."

And then Judge Chase, speaking more as a judge delivering an opinion than as an attorney, attempted to persuade a judge to his way of thinking, proceeded to say that Governor Felker had not the right to extradite Thaw, as the charge of conspiracy brought against him was based on bad faith and brought not for the purpose of prosecution once back in New York, but for the purpose of getting him into Matteawan.

THAW SEIZURE UPHELD

Canadian Court Rules Forcible Deportation Within Law.

Montreal, Quebec, Sept. 24.—The court of appeals upheld Charles Doherty, minister of justice, in having seized Harry K. Thaw at Coaticook and deported him.

Mr. Doherty, the court held, was entitled to ignore the writ of habeas corpus obtained by Thaw's counsel to prevent Thaw's deportation.

In its decision the court announced that the writ had been irregularly served. He granted the application of the government authorities to have it quashed.

NEW JERSEY PRIMARIES

Stokes and Fielder Are Nominated For Governor.

Trenton, N. J., Sept. 24.—Reports from all parts of Jersey received here indicate that ex-Governor Edward C. Stokes and Governor James F. Fielder have won the nominations for governor of New Jersey on the Republican and Democratic tickets respectively.

The Progressive candidates, Everett Colby and Edmund B. Osborne, are running a close race. From reports around Trenton the indications are that the Progressives have polled a light vote. Reports from other sections as heard from both Republican and Democratic channels indicate a short Progressive vote, but not small enough to rob the Progressives of being considered a legitimate political party.

PRINCESS ROSPIGLIOSI.

American Woman to Whose Marriage Pope Denies Recognition.

NO ROSPIGLIOSI MARRIAGE

No Death-Bed Ceremony, Says Brother of Dead Prince.

Rome, Sept. 24.—Prince Camille Rospiigliosi, former commander of the Vatican noble guard and brother of Prince Joseph Rospiigliosi, who died at Stresa, denied the published reports of a religious marriage ceremony between his dead brother and Mrs. F. H. Parkhurst, of Bangor, Me., who was formerly Miss Marie Jennings Reid, of New Orleans.

That the dying prince may have been reconciled with his church and received the pope's blessing on Friday last is freely admitted by all, but owing to the fact that Mrs. Parkhurst was a divorcee and that the church authorities had never declared her marriage null, no other marriage could be performed during the lifetime of her first husband.

500 FLEE FROM BLAZING MINE

A Careless Smoker's Match Fires Timbers.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Sept. 24.—Five hundred men and boys were rescued from the No. 3 mine of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western company here after the timbers in the shaft had been fired by a carpenter who carelessly dropped a lighted match.

As smoke from the burning timbers filled the chambers in which the miners and laborers were at work company officials realized that quick work would be necessary to avert a loss of life. Messengers were sent throughout the working, ordering men to flee to the outlet of No. 3, which leads into the Woodward shaft of the same company.

First aid to the injured teams were organized and after the messengers returned from their journeys to the innermost workings, helmet men of the first aid corps were sent out to see that no one was overcome or that any of the men were left behind.

Within an hour the 500 workers had reported at the outlet, where officials of the Woodward mine awaited to lead them in safety to the surface.

The No. 3 shaft is 80 feet deep. A force of carpenters were working in the shaft. Several of them were on the carriage and one stopped to light a pipe. Thoughtlessly he dropped the lighted match into the mine and a pocket of gas was ignited. There was no explosion, but a flame shot up the shaft and the carpenters were forced to hurry to the surface. The timbers for a distance of several hundred feet were soon blazing.

Trunks Crush Out Life in Runaway.

Scranton, Pa., Sept. 24.—Richard Wolfe, of Pittston, was killed and B. C. Smith, a traveling salesman, of Allentown, was severely injured in a runaway accident at Dunmore. Wolfe was driving Smith to visit a customer in Dunmore when the horse, frightened on a steep hill, in turning a corner the vehicle was overturned and the trunks carried by Smith crashed the driver against a tree. Smith suffered a broken ankle and other injuries.

SULZER YIELDS TILL TRIAL ENDS

Counsel Then Attacks Validity of Impeachment.

IS COVERED BY NO LAW

Acts Committed Before Election Is Not Official, Is Argument of His Attorney.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 24.—Unless the impeachment court sustains the contention of William Sulzer's impassioned defenders that he cannot be tried for alleged offenses that took place before he was governor, Jacob H. Schiff, of New York, will take the stand as the first witness for the prosecution.

Schiff will testify that he gave Mr. Sulzer on Oct. 14, 1912, a campaign check for $2500, which the candidate did not mention in his sworn statement.

As to whether or not the court will vote to quash the most important accusations of the impeachment managers by striking out the three articles relating to campaign money and falsifying a campaign statement, as demanded by Sulzer's lawyer, no one can predict.

But it may be said that the result is more uncertain than was that of the constitutional conflict as to the validity of the impeachment, which the court decided against Mr. Sulzer.

Austen G. Fox, of New York, made his argument for the elimination of impeachment articles one, two and six. If these articles are stricken out the case against Sulzer will be resolved into a very minor affair. It would consist mainly of allegations of usurpation and attempts to influence office holders.

If the court holds that Sulzer may be properly impeached for acts committed before taking office a precedent of country wide importance and affecting every office holder is established.

D. Cady Herrick, chief of counsel for the accused governor, announced that Mr. Sulzer would cease henceforth to exercise the functions of the executive office until the termination of his trial. Judge Herrick said:

"When these articles of impeachment were first presented the governor was advised that there was doubt about the legality of the proceedings, and for that reason he declined to step down from his office. Ever since the recent decision of Supreme Court Justice Hasbrouck, ruling that he had not the right to pardon a prisoner, he has ceased to exercise any of the functions of his office. Governor Sulzer will perform no functions of governor in the future pending the termination of his trial."

FIRE MARSHAL KILLED

Electrocuted by Metal Spouting on Roof of Burning Building.

Mahanoy City, Pa., Sept. 24.—Fire Marshal George Wehl grasped a metal spouting to draw himself to the roof of a burning building and was electrocuted.

The spouting was charged with electricity from a mix-up of telephone and electric light wires. Wehl's neck was also broken when he fell, sweeping two fellow firemen from the ladder. They escaped injury.

Half a dozen curious onlookers were knocked off their feet by a wriggling line of hose in the excitement. The fire marshal was forty-five years old and was a veteran of the Spanish-American war.

MISSING MAN RETURNS

May Aid in Franklin County Murder Mystery.

A few days before a Coroner's jury decided that Floyd Keller, a young farmer who died at Brandt's Church in Franklin County last November, had been given Paris Green Isaac Heckman, a neighbor, who had been in the Keller home the night he died, disappeared. His brother, Daniel, at the last term of Court had prosecuted Keller's widow for having threatened to kill him, and is now under $400 bond to keep the peace.

It was told the Coroner before the inquest that the missing man had been in the widow's company at the railroad station the day he left for a western state, and that they had been in conference until train time.

Investigation by the authorities went ahead, but their wish at the Coroner's inquest was that Heckman might go on the stand and give testimony as to what happened in the Keller home on the fatal night.

Witnesses said that Keller, the night before his death, had asked for a revolver that he might kill his wife, that a week before he died he had gone into his home for a cup of coffee and had come out of the house violently ill, taking to his bed shortly thereafter.

The testimony of these witnesses could not be corroborated by reason of the absence of Heckman, a constant visitor at the home. On Tuesday Heckman came home and District Attorney Nicklas expressed the conviction that the mystery of Keller's death would be cleared up.

Coroner Mackley, whose jury having heard the report of Dr. J. C. Attix, of Philadelphia, that enough arsenical poison had been found in Keller's body to kill a half-dozen men, said Tuesday that the case might be re-opened and Heckman summoned to testify.

It is recalled that Heckman's widow remonstrated when the authorities ordered the husband's body exhumed, and Heckman may be asked to explain his attendance upon Mrs. Keller before her husband's death, and to detail the circumstances of Keller's illness and death, in so far as they came under his observation.

POLICE AFTER HOTEL MURDERER

Think Slayer of Indianapolis
Tailor is in Philadelphia.

MAY BE FROM RICHMOND

He Posed as a Salesman, and After Luring Merchants to Hotels Robbed Them.

Philadelphia, Sept. 24.—Police in Philadelphia and in cities throughout the country are seeking for a young man known under many aliases, in the belief that he may know something about the murder of Joseph Schlansky in a hotel at Indianapolis, Ind.

The young man, who is believed to be Joseph Ellis, of Richmond, Va., is suspected by the police to be the individual who invited merchants in various cities to hotels to examine his samples. Then, when the two men were alone, the merchant was bound, gagged and robbed.

Schlansky, who went to the Indianapolis hotel at the young man's invitation, just as business men in other cities had done, was found with a bullet hole in his head and a cord pulled tight around his neck.

Among the men who were robbed by the smooth-tongued young salesman is Jacob Fudeman, who went to a hotel near Broad and Arch streets, on Sept. 6, and there was stripped of all his money. A photograph of the suspect, who was known to the police as Fred Brokaw, has been positively identified by Fudeman as that of the man who robbed him.

The description of Schlansky's murderer given by the Indianapolis police by the hotel attendants corresponds almost identically with that given by Captain Cameron, of the Philadelphia detective bureau, by Fudeman, and Cameron is convinced that he is the same man who has been working similar thefts in other large cities. Toledo, Cleveland, Ohio, and Louisville, Ky., report similar jobs.

Various names have been ascribed to the supposed slayer. Although he registered in Indianapolis under the name of Anderson and gave Louisville as his home, his real name is said to be Joseph Ellis, and he is said to come from Richmond, Va. According to a dispatch from Richmond, Jacob Ellis, a carpet dealer, has a wayward son, Joseph Ellis, who has given him much trouble. The father identified a photograph forwarded by the Pittsburgh police as that of his son.

From Louisville comes word that besides the hotel robbery, which the police attribute to Ellis, whose age is supposed to be about twenty-three, it has been learned that he recently sold a blood-stained suit of clothes. The detectives now have the bloody suit, and they believe it may be a clue to another crime.

According to dispatches from Indianapolis, Schlansky's body was found in a room at a local hotel which had been occupied by a young man who had registered as W. H. Anderson, Louisville, Ky. A strong cord had been tied around the merchant's throat and he had been shot through the head.

The slayer, who is said to have told that he was a salesman, called at Schlansky's store and asked him to go to his room in the hotel, where he said he had some goods to show. When Schlansky failed to return his family notified the police.

After having killed the merchant the murderer washed his hands in the lavatory, as the wash bowl there was filled with bloody water. The merchant's watch and about $20 were missing. The slayer left two notes, in which he said he had started to rob the merchant and then killed him.

Cleveland Tailor a Victim.

Cleveland, O., Sept. 24.—The local police have been asked by the Indianapolis police for a description of the man who on Sept. 10 enticed Samuel Cohen, a tailor, into a hotel room here and binding and gagging him, robbing him. It is thought that he may be the man who robbed and killed Joseph Schlansky in an Indianapolis hotel.

Second Suicide Attempt Succeeds.

Reading, Pa., Sept. 24.—James T. Price, a hatter, committed suicide by taking poison at his boarding house. He had become depressed by long illness and inability to work and had made an attempt to hang himself some time ago.

Judge Speer Ill of Poisoning.

One point in favor of green manuring is that it distributes the fertility through the soil more evenly than can be done in any other way.

MAYOR GAYNOR'S BODY.

Thousands Viewed Remains as They Lay in State in New York.

© 1913, by American Press Association.

Estimates of the number of persons who passed through the city hall in New York to view the remains of the late Mayor William J. Gaynor vary from 5,000 to 100,000. All day long in the rain and mist the line waited until each person could file through the hall and pay silent tribute. It was a wonderful and orderly crowd, and there was little need of a police guard.

THREAT TO TEAR UP CURRENCY MEASURE

Senator Reed, Democrat, Opposes Regional Banks.

Washington, Sept. 24.—Complete revision of the frame work of the administration currency bill was proposed by Senators Reed, Hitchcock and Brewster in the examination of Samuel Untermyer before the senate banking and currency committee.

Reed and Hitchcock have assailed vigorously certain provisions of the house bill. Reed advanced what he called the Hitchcock plan, which would eliminate from the proposed system the entire scheme of regional reserve banks and substitute a government issue of currency to individual banks on commercial paper, backed by a 50 per cent gold reserve up to 75 per cent of the capital stock of each individual bank. That would be in addition to the present bank note issue.

Reed made a long speech advocating the plan, and criticized the individual bank plan as making the individual banks "subservient to a combination of banks." Untermyer opposed the Hitchcock plan as not offering enough security to the government for the issue of currency.

Senators were of the opinion that three weeks, possibly a month, will pass before the bill is brought into the senate.

Untermyer, while indorsing the general principles of the bill, suggested many amendments which he thought would strengthen it. Some of these evoked long discussion.

Untermyer made it clear that in his testimony he desired to deny that the federal reserve board would be able to use its influence for political purposes. "That seems to me," he added, "not only improbable but impossible."

Senator Reed suggested a charge of 2 per cent interest against banks to which currency would be issued, to form a sinking fund to pay off the government debt. "That is a revival of the bank guarantee idea," commented Untermyer.

U. S. LAND LOTTERY STARTED IN MONTANA

1,345,000 Acres Last Big Drawing by Government.

Glasgow, Mont., Sept. 24.—Drawing for approximately 7000 claims, comprised in the 1,345,000 acres in the Fort Peck Indian reservation, in northwestern Montana, which has just been thrown open to settlement by the government, was begun here.

Zita Friedl, the eight-year-old daughter of Mayor Friedl, of Glasgow, picked winner No. 1 from the pile of 39,779 envelopes, representing the total number of persons registered for the land drawing.

Hazel Hurd, a twelve-year-old playmate of the mayor's daughter, drew winner No. 2, the girls alternating in the drawing.

The land drawing marks, it is said, the last big land lottery that ever will be conducted by the government in the United States, the Fort Peck tract being the last of the large areas available for settlement. Registration for the drawing was only half of what was expected, according to the officials in charge.

ROOSEVELT QUIZZES THIEF

Visits Jail in Mineola to Learn of $10,000 Loss.

New York, Sept. 24.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, his son, Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., and a detective of the Burns agency visited the Nassau county jail in Mineola.

Their purpose in going there was to question George R. Baker, a former butler for Colonel Roosevelt, who is in the county jail on a charge of having stolen $10,000 worth of jewelry from the Roosevelt home at Sagamore Hill. Parker was arrested several weeks ago and held for the grand jury.

It is understood that Colonel Roosevelt was especially anxious to find out what disposition Parker had made of a jade ring valued at $700 and a valuable job, the latter being a present from a diplomatic representative from Central America.

It is said at the jail that Parker insisted that he did not remember having stolen the ring or the job, and he stuck to his former story that he did not recall what he had done with the other articles he admitted having stolen.

Medical Advertising "CAN'T YOU HELP MY BABY?"

Mothers of Eczema Tortured Children Ask Us This.

Try This Remedy at Our Risk.

Of all the ills of childhood none causes more suffering than eczema and the other itching, burning rashes that drive the little ones almost frantic.

Nowadays when mothers ask us "Can't you help my baby get relief from eczema," we can say, "Yes". Our new Skin Remedy, Saxo Salve, has worked some very remarkable cures here, not only for children but for adults as well.

Its first effect is to stop the terrible itching and burning, and make the skin comfortable. Then it absorbs right into the skin, destroying the germs and exerting its healing power at the seat of the disease.

We guarantee Saxo Salve to give satisfaction when used for eruptions and skin troubles, of any kind, paying back your money if it does not. People's Drug Store, Gettysburg, Pa.

P. S. For children's eczema, as an auxiliary treatment, build up the blood with Vinol. We guarantee it.

Don't Cut Your Corns, This Way Better

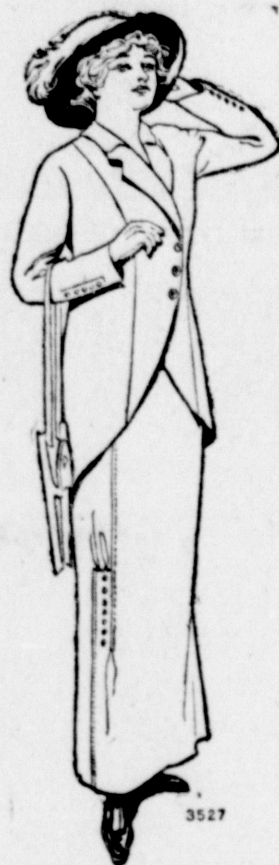

It's a fool trick to gouge out corns, and dangerous too. Don't wear loose boots remove the corn by applying Putnam's Corn Extractor. The result is magical. This remedy works wonders, eases the pain, lifts out the corn brings comfort and sound feet at once. You buy a 25c bottle of Putnam's.

Out comes the corn. The toe is left smoothly out a mark left. Use only Putnam's Painless Corn Extractor, recommended by druggists and sold in 25c bottles—and People's Drug Store.

One of the latest inventions for aerating milk is the air pump. It would seem that this is sure to find a valuable place in dairy work.
